

Have you considered participating in a clinical study?

If you are living with overweight or obesity, then the REDEFINE 2 study may be for you. This study investigates the effect of an investigational medicine on weight loss

You may be eligible participate in the REDEFINE 2 study if you fulfill the following

- Have Type-2-Diabetes
- Have a BMI \geq 27
- Have an HbA_{1c} between 7-10%
- 18 years or older
- Able and willing to adhere to study procedure

What do you need to do?

- Inject the study medicines with an easy-to-use injection pen once a week
- Attend regular study-related health checks and medical tests incl. having blood samples taken
- Maintain a dosing diary and complete questionnaires using a study device
- Keep in contact with the study staff during the study at regularly scheduled visits for a duration of one year

This study is currently looking for participants – for more information please contact:

<Name>

<Title>

<Contact information>